THE ARBORETUM CONTINUES TO MOVE FORWARD

I am most proud to announce the appointment of our Superintendent and our Director of Development. With these new appointments, we continue to set The Arboretum up for success.

Timothy Phillips, our Superintendent, was the Director of Horticulture at Quail Botanical Gardens in Encinitas, California, for the past three and a half years. His work experience and education have focused on public garden management with stops in Hawaii, England, Florida and the British Virgin Islands. Timothy is eager to begin working with our staff and volunteers to achieve the goals set forth in our Five-Year Plan. He strongly believes that, "Everything is achievable through teamwork and cooperation."

Larry Trujillo, our Director of Development, comes from a ten-year career with the United Way of Greater Los Angeles, as Campaign Manager for the San Gabriel Valley area. He raised over $52 million through corporate and industry fund raising, planned giving, special events, and extensive work with volunteer boards and committees. At The Arboretum he will also be responsible for membership and volunteers. Larry is an avid Disney collector and is a sixteen-year veteran basketball official for local high schools and colleges.

So, please stop by and welcome our new staff. They are eager to meet you and look forward to being part of the team taking The Arboretum to new heights.

Additionally, The Arboretum, known for its extensive plant collection, especially trees and palms, will be embarking on a long-awaited and quite extensive program to restore these valuable collections.

Lastly, as of the writing of this article, our Annual Appeal has been most successful. We have netted more than twice the amount raised last year. Congratulations to all contributors. The impact of your generosity upon the staff, board and all those related to our fine institution is significant. Your support shows commitment and faith in what we are doing and what we are planning for the future. Thank you.

The Arboretum Newsletter is published by the Los Angeles Arboretum Foundation. The Arboretum of Los Angeles County is jointly operated by the Los Angeles Arboretum Foundation and the County of Los Angeles.

GEORGE A. BRUMDER, PRESIDENT, LAAF

DEAR FRIENDS OF THE ARBORETUM,

If you haven't already done so, I urge you to read Peter Atkins' remarks – he speaks of a number of positive developments at The Arboretum, including:

- the hiring of a superintendent for the grounds – the first in quite a while – who will oversee continuing improvements on the grounds and The Arboretum's important plant collections,
- the hiring of a development director – also the first in quite a while – to help raise money to fund operations, expanded and new programs, special projects and capital programs at The Arboretum,
- plans to step up arborist work – to protect public safety and enhance the health and beauty of our fine collection of trees and
- the highly successful year-end Annual Appeal.

I hope you will also mark your calendars for Baldwin Bonanza Festival of Plants 2001, which promises to be the best yet – and that you and your friends will plan to attend the preview party on Friday, May 4th, and the sale and other activities on the 5th and 6th.

Finally, on behalf of the entire foundation board of trustees, I extend heartfelt thanks to all of you who – listed on the Annual Appeal insert in this newsletter – responded generously to our Annual Appeal, raising a substantial sum, which will be used to further enhance The Arboretum and its programs as it works to become a world class arboretum for all of Southern California.

Thank you very much for your interest and involvement!

*George A. Brumder,
President

CLASSES AND ACTIVITIES FEBRUARY AND MARCH 2001

PLEASE CALL (626) 821-4623 OR 821-4624 TO RESERVE A SPACE.

TAI CHI IN THE GARDEN

Every Tuesday and Friday
7:30 am - 8:30 am

Marvin Quon, Instructor
Free for Arboretum members

Meet on the lawn between the two fountains just south of main parking lot, near the main Baldwin Avenue entrance.

Tai Chi Chuan, as it is practiced today, can perhaps best be thought of as a moving form of meditation. Though a form of martial arts, most of the Tai Chi exercises are performed in slow, soft and graceful movements. For many practitioners, movements are not martial, but meditative exercises for the body. Another goal of Tai Chi is to foster a calm and clear mind by focusing on learning the precise execution of certain movements. Providing a practical avenue for learning about balance, alignment, how to focus your mind and the rhythm of movement, many participants also notice benefits in terms of correcting poor posture, alignment, and movement patterns which can contribute to tension or injury. Begin your day by renewing yourself surrounded by the beauty of The Arboretum.

ALL ABOUT MUSHROOMS

Saturday,
February 3
9 am - Noon
Conference Room in Administration Building
Jerry Turney, Instructor
$20 / $25 nonmember
This class will provide a basic overview of the fungal kingdom with the emphasis on mushroom identification. Learn the basic characteristics used to identify mushrooms and other fleshy fungi. Find out which mushrooms are safe to eat and which ones to stay away from. Also included is a field trip on February 17 to collect mushrooms in our local mountains. Bring to class any mushrooms you find for identification and group discussion. A highly recommended (optional) text is Mushrooms Demystified by David Arora, published by Ten Speed Press, Berkeley, California. Don't forget to attend the Mushroom Show at The Arboretum on Sunday, Feb. 11 with your increased appreciation and understanding of these curious fungi!

BOTANICAL ILLUSTRATION II - DRAWING PLANTS

6 Wednesdays,
February 7 - March 14
9 am - Noon
Peacock Cafe Annex
Olga Eysymontt, Instructor
$180/$200 non-members

This class is a continuation of Botanical Illustration I: Basic Drawing. Accurate rendering of plant and leaf subject matter is the focus of this course. Areas being covered include: leaves, stems, flowers and roots. Pencil techniques are also demonstrated.

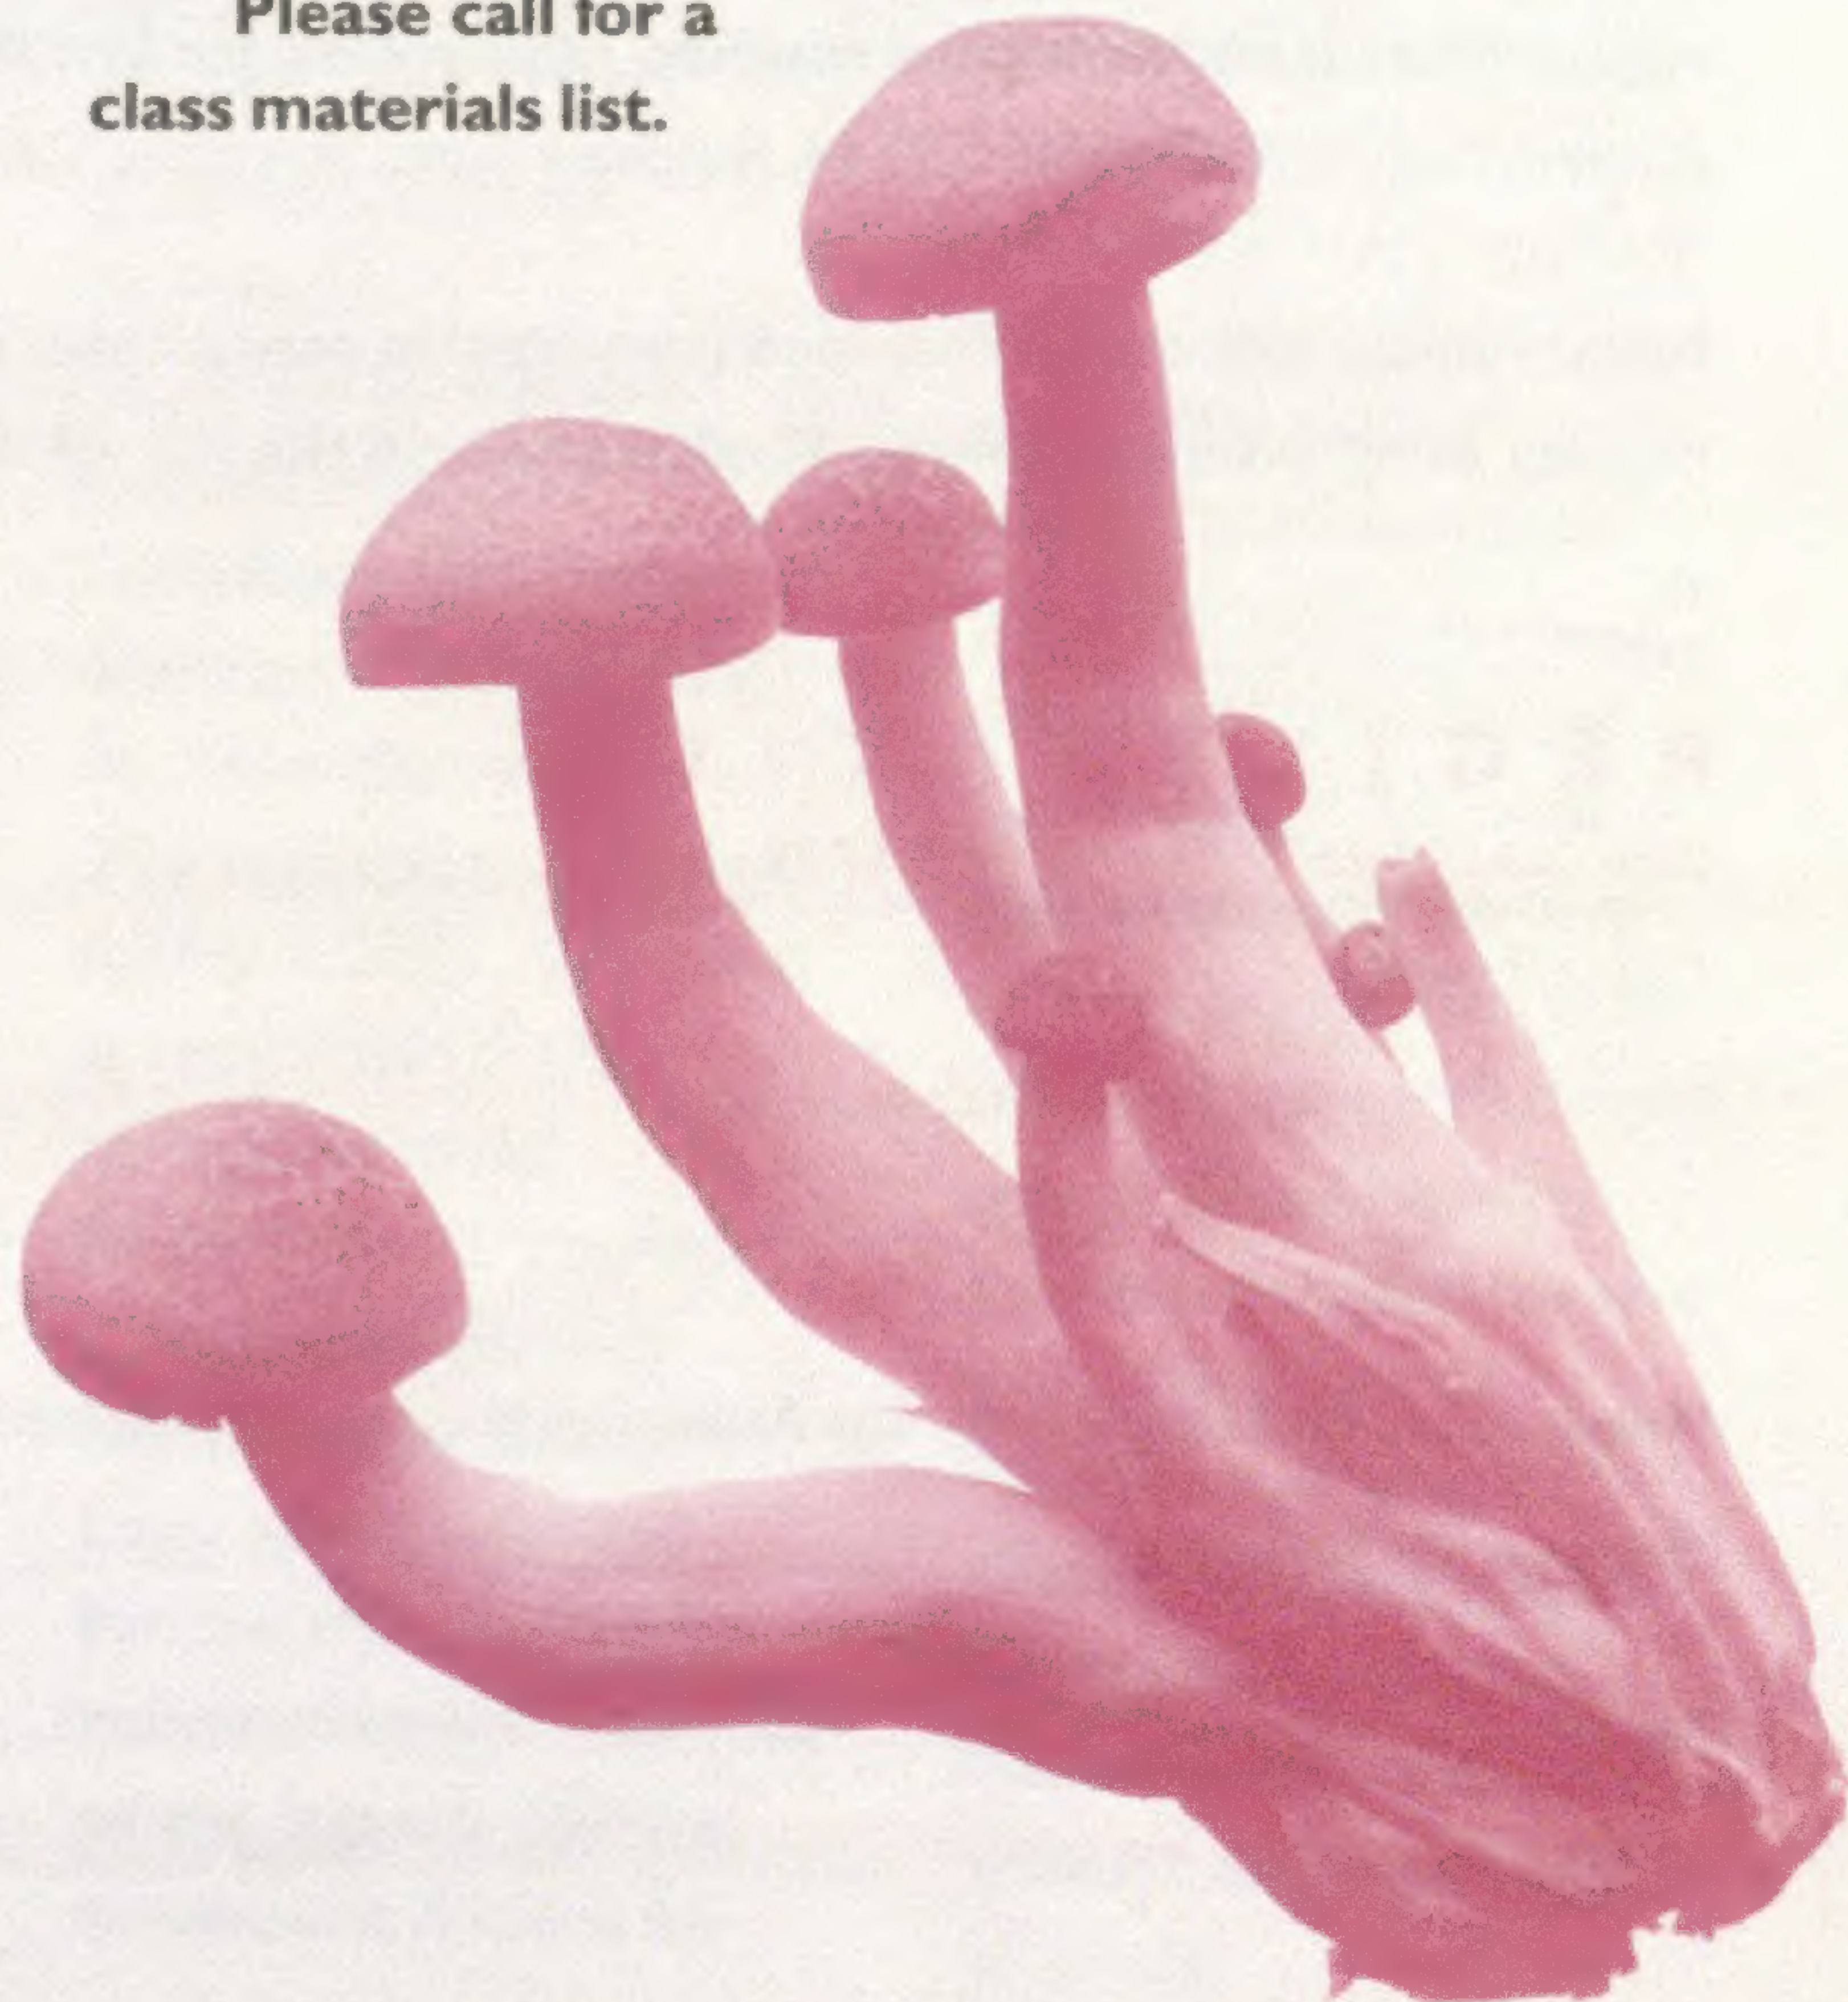

OUTLINE:

- Session 1:
Anatomy of a Leaf
- Session 2:
Leaves and attachments
- Session 3:
Flower Dissection
- Session 4:
Flower drawing in different viewpoints
- Session 5:
Flowers with Leaves
- Session 6: Roots

Please call for a class materials list.

PLANTING DESIGN

6 Mondays,
February 26 - April 2
10:00 am - Noon
Peacock Cafe Annex
Mary Brosius, Instructor
$65 / $80 non-members
Study planting design in depth. Each two hour class will explore some facet of the design process, such as different planting styles, choosing plants that work together, selecting plants for different soils and light conditions and the actual process of preparing a design. A hands-on project will follow. Experienced gardeners thinking about renovating an area of their garden without a complete redesign will benefit from this class, as well as those doing residential design work who want a little more background in this subject.

VEGETABLE GARDENS

Wednesday, March 7
9:30 am Noon
Lecture Hall A
Ralph Crane, Instructor
$12 / $15 non-members
FREE vegetable plants!!!
Starter plants grown in the Education Greenhouse will help you begin your garden! Have you ever grown vegetables? Enjoy a bountiful harvest when you learn how to plan your spring and summer garden. Information and techniques on soils, fertilizers, raised beds, watering and pest management will be discussed. Ralph will also talk about planting corn, tomatoes, squashes, all beans including soy beans, zucchini and more. Sunset Magazine highlighted Ralph's formula for conditioning soil for healthy and productive crops in the November 2000 issue! So come and learn, enjoy and take home a plant!

SHADE GARDENS

Saturday, March 17
10 am - Noon
Peacock Cafe Annex
Kelly Kubica, Instructor
$12 / $15 non-members
Learn how to incorporate texture, contrast and color in a shade garden. Perennials, annuals, bulbs and woody plants all play roles in creating a shady retreat in your garden. Kelly will discuss plant selection, including trees and shrubs, and provide you with a list of her favorite and most successful shade plants. Basic information about the culture of shade plants, including watering, will of course be discussed. As always, Kelly will provide you with handouts that will remind you of all you have learned in the class!

BOTANICAL WATERCOLOR

8 Mondays,
March 19 - May 7
9:30 - 11:30 am
Lecture Hall A
Pat Brame, Instructor
$55/$68 non-members
Join Pat Brame, noted watercolor instructor, for an inspiring and instructive painting course. This class encompasses all levels of expertise. Students will discover that painting flowers (fresh from The Arboretum gardens!) is the easiest way to learn. Step by step instruction is available to all students. A materials list will be given at first class.

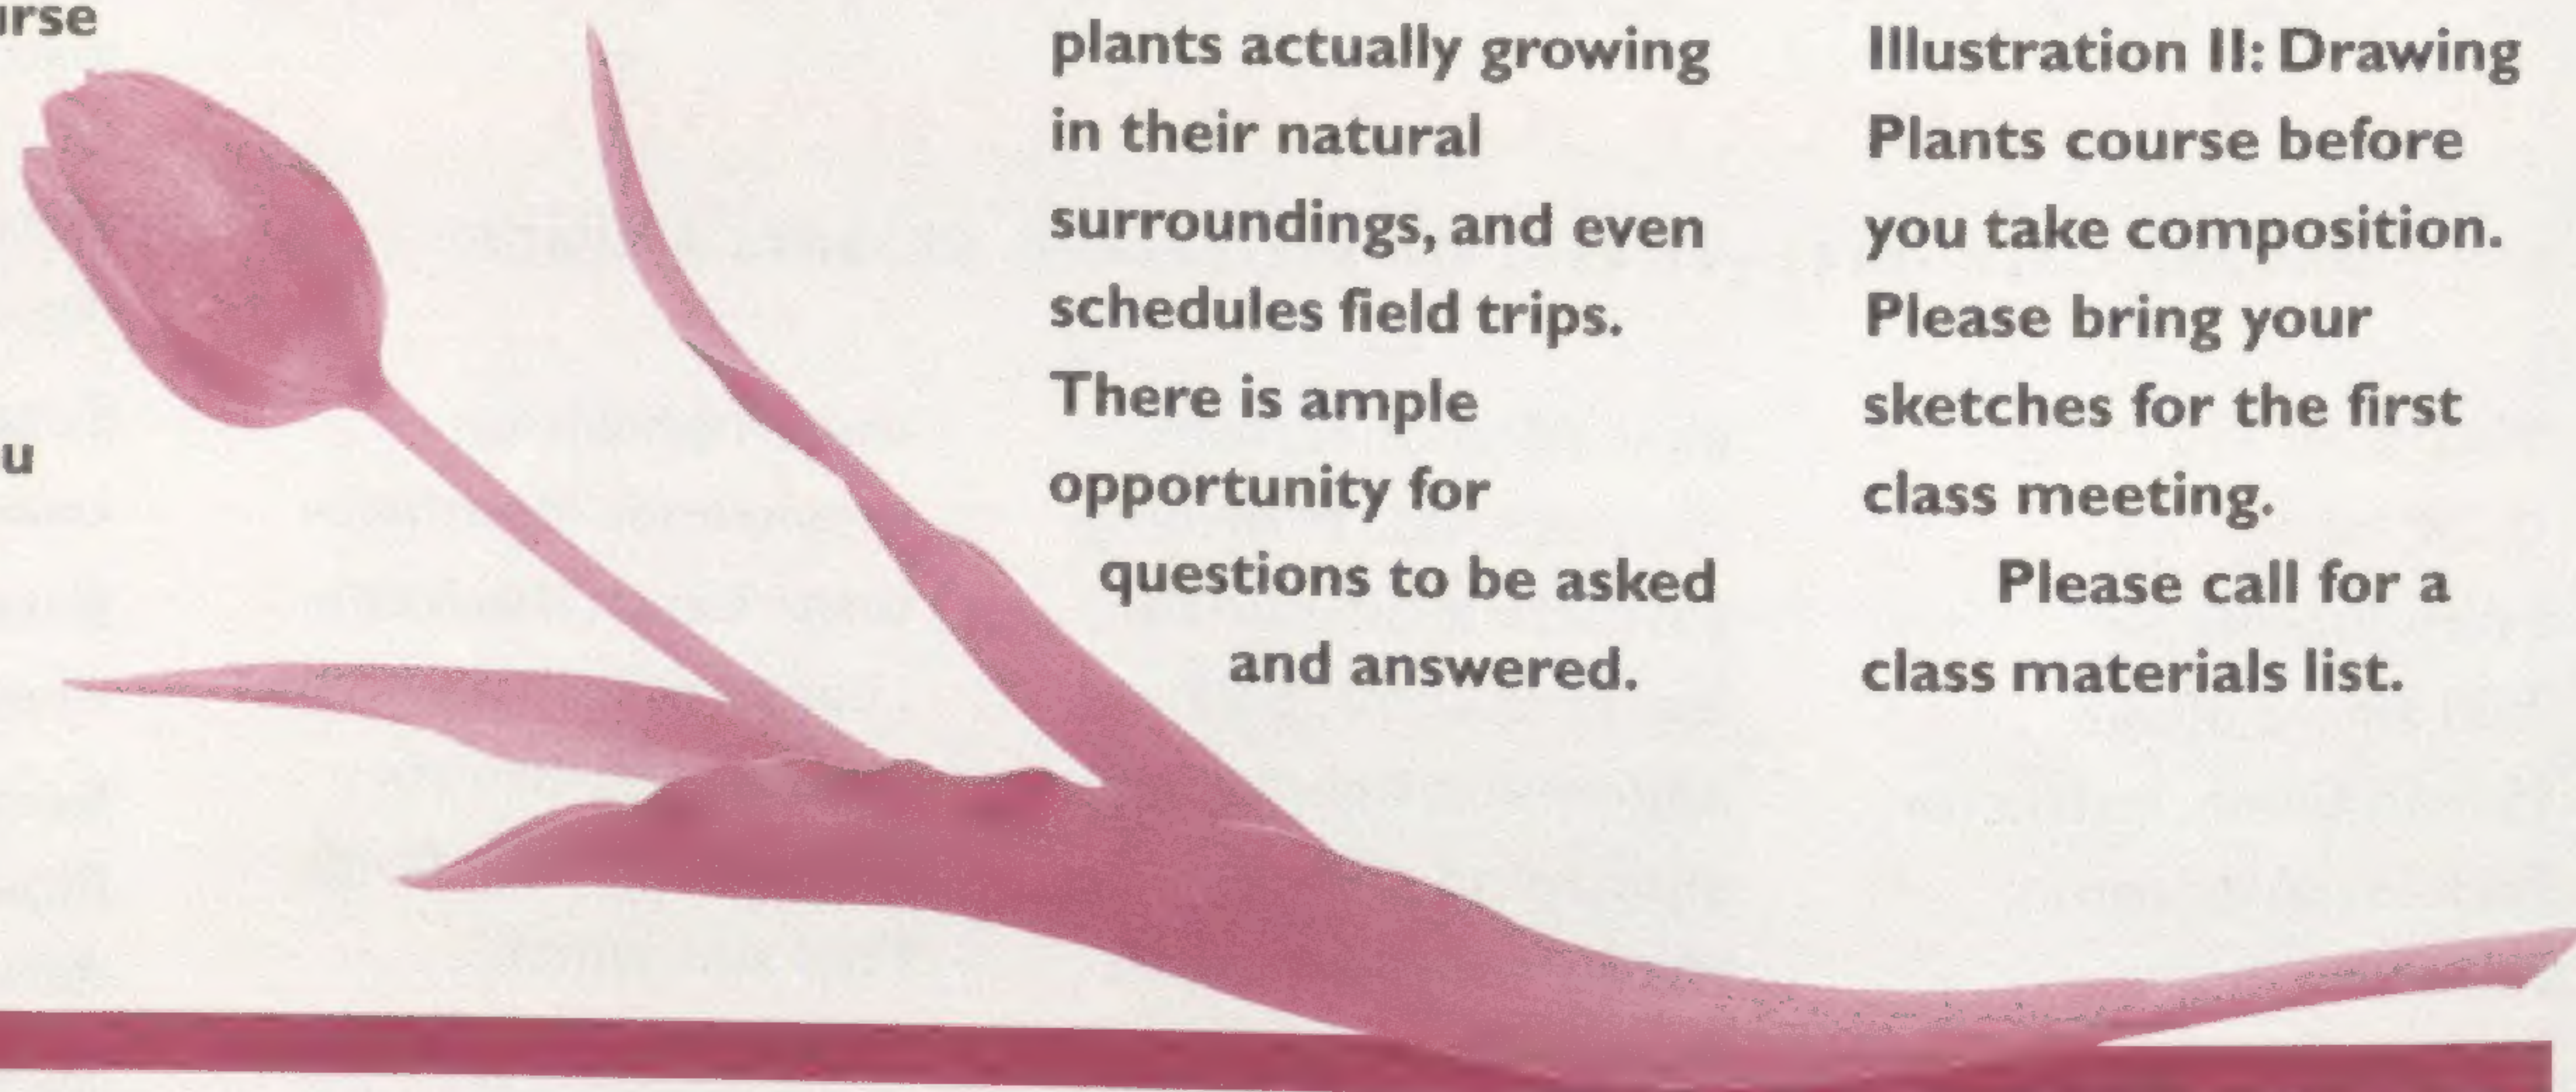

GREEN SIDE UP, BROWN SIDE DOWN™ - A BASIC HORTICULTURE SERIES

8 Tuesdays,
March 20 - May 8
9:30 - 12 Noon
Lecture Hall A
Jill Vig, Instructor
$60 / $75 non-members
This wonderful basic horticulture class discusses everything from botany, soil and mulch composition, pest management and plant selection to pruning and propagation - and more! Jill brings in a wide variety of plants from The Arboretum greenhouses, shows you the plants actually growing in their natural surroundings, and even schedules field trips. There is ample opportunity for questions to be asked and answered.

BOTANICAL ILLUSTRATION III - COMPOSITION

6 Wednesdays,
March 21 - April 25
9 am - Noon
Peacock Cafe Annex
Olga Eysymontt, Instructor
$180/ $200 nonmembers
Minimum of 6 students;
Maximum of 15 students
Learn to create a pleasing and interesting composition for your botanical sketches. Demonstrations will take you step by step from sketch to a final composition. Five layouts will be produced. It is recommended that you take the Botanical Illustration II: Drawing Plants course before you take composition. Please bring your sketches for the first class meeting.

Please call for a class materials list.

March 24 - April 28
9 am - 11 am
Lecture Hall A
(except for March 24 when it meets in the Conference Room)
Mary Brosius, Instructor
$65 / $80 non-members
Increase your knowledge of horticulture and make new friends! Discover wonderful and interesting spring and summer plants, choose the right combinations and site, and plan ahead for the coming months. There is lots of discussion among the class, with participants exchanging information and experiences. You will be surprised at what you learn from each other. The class is for both beginning and intermediate gardeners.

LOW-MAINTENANCE GARDENING

Saturday, March 31
9:30 - 11:30 am
Lecture Hall B
Loni Brown, Instructor
$8 / $10 non-member
Create a low maintenance garden and save money and time. As the passionate gardener of The Arboretum's glorious Kallam Perennial Garden (tram stop #18), Loni is well-versed in the best ways of landscape maintenance. She will share weed control methods, the benefits of selective pruning, discuss incorrect tree topping and correct tree pruning, lawn alternatives, mulching, watering and beneficial insect use. There will be time for questions and informative handouts.

AN EXCURSION

QUAIL BOTANICAL GARDEN AND CASA DE LA TORRE-BUENO

Wednesday, April 25
8 am - 5 pm
Meet at 7:45 am in the parking lot of The Arboretum; bus leaves promptly at 8 am!
$44 / $55 Non-members (includes a catered lunch at Quail Gardens)
Quail Botanical Gardens has one of the world's most diverse and botanically important plant collections. Scenic walks and trails along deep canyons and sunny hillsides provide access to this 30 acre garden. Docents will lead us to all points of the garden. There are 24 representative gardens displaying plants from desert climates, tropical and subtropical climates and Mediterranean climates.

After a catered lunch, we will visit Casa de la Torre-Bueno, an incredible garden at a private home. The owners, Susi and Jose Torre-Bueno, once lived in Guyana, South America, and twenty-five years later, recreated the spirit of an abandoned banana plantation - their former home. The garden has many facets: a Mediterranean garden, Japanese garden, patio gardens with an herb garden and a succulent and heat lovers' garden, a scent garden, a twilight garden and, of course, the Jungle!

Jan Smithen, esteemed instructor of the legendary Fanatic Gardeners, will accompany us on the trip, said that these destinations are "absolutely must-see gardens!" Wear walking shoes, and be ready "to walk!"

FRAGRANT PLANTS

Saturday, April 21
1 pm - 3 pm
Peacock Cafe Annex
Kelly Kubica, Instructor
$12 / $15 non-members
Have you noticed how a certain fragrance can bring back a memory or an experience? Discover the very best and most successful fragrant plants for your garden, and take home material that will remind you of all you have learned. The last part of the class will include a walk around The Arboretum to actually see (and smell!) the fragrant plantings in a natural setting.

PLANT MORPHOLOGY FOR BOTANICAL ILLUSTRATORS

June 28 - July 2, 2001
(Thursday through Monday),
10:30 am to 3:30 pm
Lecture Hall
Dick Rauh, Instructor
$300 for Members/$340 for Non-Members
The registration deadline is May 1, 2001. Class size is restricted to 15, so register early!
In addition to the fee, a textbook (Botany Illustrated by Glimn-Lacy and Kaufman) for the class is highly recommended. The cost of the book is $90 for members; it must be ordered at the time of registration.

In this 5-day workshop you will examine the enormous variety of form and structural adaptation of flowering plants. Through lectures, demonstrations, and laboratory studies, you will learn to recognize major common families, plant parts, and plant growing stages. This course will greatly enhance the accuracy and integrity of your botanical drawings and paintings.

Dick Rauh is a highly regarded instructor and illustrator at The New York Botanical Garden.

MRS. P'S PRESSED FLOWER WORKSHOP

Saturday, June 30
10 am - Noon
Lecture Hall A
Lynn A. Pitts, Instructor
$27 / $32 non-member
Minimum 20 participants
Lynn Pitts, better known as "Mrs. P.," is a Master Gardener and recognized expert on flowers, a professional botanical artist and garden columnist, and is regularly featured on the PBS television program "The Art of Gardening." She will talk about the history of pressing plants, and will then teach the right way to press flowers. Participants will receive a complete kit of supplies and plant materials and printed instructions, special flower seeds, and a list of the best botanicals to press.

HAVE YOU SEEN OUR ORCHIDS LATELY?

One of the most frequently visited sections of The Arboretum is the Orchid Collection, a portion of which is on permanent display in the Tropical Greenhouse. Begun in 1956 with a small donation of Cattleya orchids, the Collection has continuously grown, reaching over 10,000 plants today. It is currently one of the largest collections of orchids in the world, housed in five greenhouses, covering over 6000 square feet. All five greenhouses were funded through private donations.

A Unique Collection of Species

While most orchid collections consist mainly of horticulturally derived hybrids, The Arboretum's Collection is unique in its emphasis on collecting species found in nature. From the late 1950's to the early 1980's the Los Angeles Arboretum Foundation and the California Garden Clubs sponsored trips to Central and South America which enabled the collection of species not available in most orchid collections. The Species Collection consists of over 200 genera and 1800 species, and is located in The Arboretum's largest and newest greenhouse.

A Notable Collection of Endangered Species

The Collection has also grown through generous donations from private individuals and through trading with local commercial growers. In addition to these sources, The Arboretum serves as a rescue center for the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and, as such, houses confiscated plants. Almost 50 years of collecting has Fun for the entire family. Come see local and exotic insects, spiders and scorpions. There will be special educational displays, books and supplies, bug shirts and toys, along with bug collecting equipment.

WHAT I LIKE ABOUT THE ARBORETUM

I like the flowers and the animals. Kelly

There are lots of peacocks at the Arboretum and they are beautiful to look at and I like the plants. Maggie

I think the Arboretum is very interesting and fun. Jasmine

WELCOME FELICIA FRIESEMA SPECIAL EVENTS ASSISTANT

Joining the Arboretum staff in December, Felicia will first focus her energies on Baldwin Bonanza 2001. With previous experience in public relations and graphic design while working for the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, we look forward to her creative contributions. Born and raised in Pasadena, Felicia attended the University of Maryland where she earned her degree in English. An avid gardener, we welcome Felicia and her green thumb to The Arboretum!

THE EDUCATION GREENHOUSE

Did you ever wonder where the plants that are sold at The Arboretum Gift Shop or at Baldwin Bonanza come from? Well, most of them get their start in the Education Greenhouse. Student interns from Mount San Antonio College, Randy and Ruth Duncan, manage the many and varied activities that take place in the Education Greenhouse.

The primary greenhouse activity is to propagate and care for plants created from seed, cuttings or division to be sold at Baldwin Bonanza. Many members of Los Vols provide hours and hours of support to Randy and Ruth in getting ready for this important Arboretum fundraiser event.

The list of tasks is enormous, including such activities as: potting bulbs, plugs or bare root plant materials, preventing, monitoring and controlling pests and diseases, weeding, pruning, researching characteristics of various plants, making labels and creating hanging baskets, topiaries, staghorn plaques and other items for sale.

As a special feature of Baldwin Bonanza 2001, the Education Greenhouse staff and volunteers will create their own Garden Gallery presentation under the oak tree near the Garden for All Seasons. The garden will lead into the greenhouse, a new shopping venue this year, where many plants will be displayed for sale. Be sure and come by to say hello and, of course, shop!

NEW! EXCITING ETHNOBOTANY LECTURE SERIES BEGINS WEDNESDAY APRIL 4.

Don't miss this exciting new lecture series featuring The Arboretum's very own ethnobotanist, Dr. Jim Bauml, as he hosts this special series. Along with several internationally known colleagues, including "Jim" Duke, Wade Davis and Mark Plotkin, Dr. Bauml will help us learn and better understand the legacy of useful plants we all enjoy today.

Ethnobotanists are those who study and record the plant lore of societies around the world, looking for plants that will help us survive through the next millennium and improve our quality of life.

The first lecture is Wednesday, April 4, from 7:00-9:00 p.m. in Ayres Hall.

Additional Wednesday evening lectures are scheduled for June 13, October 10 and December 5.

For registration details call 626-821-4623 or 626-821-4624.
